With the high-quality USB stick in black piano finish, you can connect your NOXON Media Player (M520 / M760) or computer to your network wirelessly. The stick uses the current ultra high-speed WLAN standard 802.11n, with which transmission speeds of up to 300 MBit/s are possible. This way, even an HD movie can be played back over the network without stuttering. Of course, the 802.11b and 802.11g standards are also supported without any problems.

Does your network have encryption to protect it against uninvited guests? No problem – the WLAN stick is also compatible with all current encryption standards (including WEP, TKZP, AES, WPA, WPA2 and others).

You can complete the quick and easy setup on the NOXON Media Player using a simple installation wizard. To do so, simply follow the instructions on the screen. In addition, a printed manual in four languages and a USB extension cable for perfect orientation are included in the scope of delivery.

If you want to integrate your PC (Windows XP, Vista, 7) or Mac (Mac OS X 10.5, 10.6) into the network wirelessly using the NOXON WLAN Stick, refer to the detailed manual provided in four languages on our webpage:
