

GRABSTER AV250MKII

Burn your VHS tapes to DVD

Grabster AV 250MKII and the full version of MovieFactory 5 are the perfect team to make great VCDs, SVCDs and DVDs with just a few clicks. Transfer your videos in full DVD resolution via the external USB converter on your notebook or PC. Then use the video and slideshow editing features and fully customisable motion menus to save your precious memories in premium quality on CD and DVD.

Import

No matter which source you choose: Grabster AV 250MKII supports any equipment with analogue video outputs like VCRs, satellite receivers, DVD players, camcorders and many more. Experience video to disc in one click - the fastest way to copy your movies to disc, without having to store the video onto your hard drive first!

Express

Just choose and modify a suitable menu template, and you'll make a professional-looking DVD in a few minutes! Try Multi-trim to easily get rid of unwanted video. Or add the excitement of full motion menus. Make your slideshows come to life - create transitions between photos and add titles to pictures. Even replace audio with music or voice-overs.

Impress

In no time at all you can produce a professional DVD for your notebook, PC or DVD player and TV set - even on the road! Try One-Click-Disc-Copies to easily share your high quality videos and surprise your friends with a movie made on location! To top it all off you can even give your CDs and DVDs an appealing finish with exciting, print-quality labels.
